Back with their second release, the Sidewalk Boys are ready for their 2007 summer tour. They've loaded "Grundles and Trinkets" up and together with Buster and Rosie they'll be heading out from Portsmouth, New Hampshire to bring their own version of "Grunge Folk" to live audiences. Sidewalk Tom Richter drives the bus and handles the Grundles while the Chunkman, Brian Goetz, keeps all the trinkets working. They've hooked up with Dumpster-Diving Dave Lemeiux to fill out the sound and help pick up after the shows. So, check 'em out. Listen online or catch a live show.
